W. M. GAILBREATH STRICK- EN WITH PARALYSIS.

The many friends of W. M. Gailbreath were greatly shocked Tuesday morning, February 1st, when they learned that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Gailbreath was in his room at 7 o'clock dressing for breakfast, when his wife and Miss Nettie Jones, who were in the dining room, heard a noise as of something falling and rushing to his room found him lying on the floor unable to move or speak. He was placed in a chair and Drs. Loftis and Gaw summoned, and upon examination it was found that his right side was paralyzed. Such medical aid was rendered as could be and he was placed in bed. It was only a short time before he could speak a few words that could be understood, which condition has not changed.

Dr. O. N. Bryan was called from Nashville and made an examination Wednesday and everything is being done that can be to relieve his condition.

All of the family are with him, but one son, R. J. Gailbreath, who will arrive Friday from his home in Miami, Fla.

At this time (Thursday afternoon, Feb. 3) he is slightly improved, but his condition is such that it is impossible for the doctors to tell what the result may be. It is hoped, however, that he may recover and be spared to his family and friends for many years.

Former Gainesboro Citizen Killed By Train.

One of the most appalling tragedies in the history of Cookeville occurred at the Tennessee Central passenger station last Monday morning at eight o'clock, when John Speakman was struck and instantly killed by a switch engine.

Mr. Speakman, who was almost totally deaf, was crossing the track from the north side, evidently was not aware of the fact that the engine was approaching, as it was traveling at a slow rate of speed, according to eye witnesses, and was just in the act of stepping over the last rail of the track, and had he quickened his motion the least bit would have been safely over. But fate decreed otherwise, as he was caught by a cow-catcher of the engine and drawn back to instant death. The engine was stopped a few feet from where the accident occurred and the body did not get under the wheels, but was badly bruised in places. Two or three bystanders rushed to the rescue, but he was dead before they could reach him. The body was immediately carried to the rear room of Robbins' barber shop by the railway authorities, and a little later turned over to the family.

John Speakman was a most useful citizen and will be greatly missed in his community. He was a tinner by trade and in this capacity had worked faithfully during his twenty five years residence in Cookeville, during which time he had gained and held the confidence of all whom

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES.

The following is the record of the Methodist Sunday-school for Sunday, January 23, 1921, compared with the corresponding Sunday last year:

	1921	1920
Officers and teachers present	6	5
Scholars present	67	45
Total present	73	50
Collection	$4.69	$1.19
Total enrollment	88	70
Absent	15	20

G. B. Gailbreath's class of boys captured the "Banner" with a perfect attendance and collection of $2.33. Mrs. F. L. Tardy's class of girls came second with a perfect attendance and collection of 77 cents.

Mrs. D. C. Morgan's class of beginners had an attendance of 20, with five absent and a collection of 44 cents.

Mrs. Carry Tardy's class, one of the finest classes in the school, had only two absent with a collection of 24 cents.

Interest in the school is growing and all classes are doing good work. If you would know more about us and have any desire to see the school at work come any Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and we will assure you a welcome and show you an interesting school.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

The second quarterly conference of the Gainesboro Mission will be held at the Gainesboro church Sunday, February 7.

Rev. N. T. Nowlin, presiding elder, will preach Saturday night February 6 at 7 o'clock, and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. He is an able preacher and his sermons will be well worth hearing.

Following the Sunday morning service dinner will be served at the church, after which the business session of the conference will be held. All members are urged to attend.

K. A. Early, Pastor.

he came in contact. Despite his deafness, which was of course a great handicap to him, he was always jovial, and invariably had a pleasant word of greeting for everyone. He was especially fond of children and was a great favorite among the little folks. At the time of the fatal accident one little fellow we are told, saw the danger his friend was in, and realizing that an alarm would be of no avail, ran as fast as his little legs would carry him to pull Mr. Speakman out of harm's way, but he was too late.

Mr. Speakman was 59 years of age. He was born in Jackson county, having moved from Gainesboro to Cookeville a quarter of a century ago. He is survived by a wife and four daughters. He also was the father of four sons, all of whom preceded him to the grave. He is also survived by two sisters who live in Cookeville, Mrs. Wm. Smoot and Mrs. Nina Embry. One brother, Hall Speakman was here to attend the funeral, which was conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, by Rev. C. L. Talley of the Christian Church. The remains were interred in the city cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, attended by many relatives and friends of the deceased.

The Herald joins the community in extending to the bereaved family a heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow.—Putnam County Herald, January 27, 1921.

An Explanation.

Through sickness and other unavoidable conditions we are forced to combine the issues of January 27 and February 3, and publish the combined paper on the latter date. For similar reasons we may not be able to publish the Sentinel for two weeks. We kindly ask our readers to bear with us until the present conditions are changed.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT OUTLINES HER POLICY.

I feel that you are due and expression, not only of thanks, but of my policy in regard to school affairs.

The delay in getting out warrants have been due to the slight confusion of one person taking over another's work, and to the fact that many of your letters were addressed to Ex-Supt., Dixon. These he had to examine before he could tell that they were only official matters.

The plan adopted by the county board will be carried out, but later, if we make some changes it will be what we consider best for the schools.

I would be glad to have as great a number as will take the March examination. Salaries being better and other occupations not now paying so well, this might induce some who have not taught for several years to come back into the profession. Let me assure you that we will gladly welcome you back and do all we can to encourage you in your work.

In regard to my policy as county Supt. I wish to say that my intention is to conduct our schools in the most economical way that is consistent with good schools; secure the best teachers available; use the Jackson County teachers first, and then the best we can get from outside the county.

In conclusion, I again wish to thank the county court, which elected me, for their confidence, and to assure, not only them, but the entire county that my greatest ambition is to perform the duties of this office in an efficient and business like way.

Thanking every one for the kindness and courtesy shown to me during my canvass,

Estelle Gailbreath,
County Supt.

New Music Instructor.

Miss Ethel Bolen, of Pontotoc, Miss., has taken charge of the music department of the Jackson County High School.

Miss Bolen comes to us with the highest of recommendations. She secured her musical training in the Conservatory of Music at Cincinnati, O., and Chautauqua, N. Y. For eight years she was connected with the Celina, Tennessee high school as music instructor, where she was highly successful. In addition to her experience as a teacher she has toured the Northern States with Domingo's Concert Co., a high class musical organization.

The department has been in progress a week under the new instructor, and everything is working in perfect unison with 25 pupils enrolled.

The school board is to be congratulated on securing the service of such a talented lady.
